

WORDS FROM CARA
AUTHOR / INSPIRATIONAL SPEAKER / STORYTELLER

“That was the coolest wedding I’ve ever seen!”

Are you wanting a most unique, completely customized wedding? Do you want to have the kind of fresh, non-traditional, personalized wedding that people rave about long after the bouquet has been tossed?

Think how much fun and moving it would be to have a professional Storyteller help you express your feelings for each other—creating a wedding like none other. You’ve come to the right place! Read what others have said about experiencing a “Words From Cara” wedding...

Because I’m both an incurable romantic and a Storyteller, I simply love helping people express their love for each other. They tell me how they feel about one another in separate, private interviews and I then create their own special Love Story—to either be told (and heard for the very first time!) at the wedding, or woven into their wedding invitations, Save-the-Dates, posters, etc. You will have an everlasting treasure to read from anniversary to anniversary.

Along with your unique Love Story, I offer you additional touches to add to the beauty of your commitment to each other—Whether you choose “A Rose Exchange”; “A Scarf Ceremony”; “A Sand Ceremony”; “Unity Candles,” or something else, I will help you find the perfect touch that reflects your love.

Would you like to invite others into the wedding ceremony? Oftentimes, couples involve their children, parents, close friends, even pets into this blessed event. Whomever you want to add to this sacred time is even more meaningful when it’s shared.

“She made our wedding dreams come true...” Christine and Larry Jones actually married each other the second time around. Cara interviewed them separately before the wedding and then the first time they heard their personal Love Story was at the altar. Larry says, “I told Cara just a few things and she took my thoughts and put them into words I didn’t know how to say.” Christine says, “There were tears all around. She even helped us pick out the perfect music and lyrics that symbolized our love. It was a day we’ll never, ever forget...” Cara also wrote their vows as well and acted as Officiate. The couple says they re-read their Wedding Love Story over and over again to this day.

Christine and Larry Jones

“Cara officiated our wedding two years ago. She met with my then fiancé and myself and we talked about what we wanted regarding our vows and special things we wanted to do during our ceremony. Then, Cara interviewed us separately asking us a series of questions. From these interviews she crafted our love story. My fiancé and I chose not to read what Cara had written until the ceremony, and we did not discuss the questions she asked. The ceremony was better than imagined! With the Pacific Ocean at Asilomar Beach as our backdrop our guests listened to our love story – which was exactly our story and reflected our personalities. We laughed and cried – but most importantly Cara captured OUR true feelings for each other. After the ceremony and eyes were dried, Cara gave us a beautiful copy of our story and vows, which we get out and read all the time! Love you Cara!”
